Bunnik Tours is a wonderful Australian family-owned and operated small group touring company based in Adelaide. With no more than 20 people on a trip you are bound to enjoy this experience. You can Journey worldwide with Bunnik on a very inclusive holiday with no hidden extras.

I am delighted that Nicole Gruver from Bunnik will be joining us on Wednesday 21 August at 5.30pm to let us all know more about their journeys. Please do join us.

This proudly Australian company has just won 2019 Best Tour Operator International as voted by AFTA (the Australian Federation of Travel Agents). This award is highly regarded in the industry as a reward for excellence. Just read what two of Bunnik's guests say about their recent experiences:

Turkey/Greece

This has been my fourth trip with Bunnik; once again an amazing (at times tiring) experience. Both countries are steeped in ancient history and have some incredible landscapes. The guides, Hakan in particular, and Maria were excellent, very knowledgeable. Accommodation excellent, food delicious. Worth mentioning, the welcome dinner in Istanbul was at a very nice restaurant overlooking the Bosphorus; a lovely meal and evening.

Moroccan Discovery

My wife and I have just finished up the most amazing trip through Morocco and the experience was amazing. The moment we arrived in Casablanca and were greeted by Mouktah (guide) and Ali (driver) we knew we were in safe and capable hands. An intimate group of seven set off to explore this wonderful country. We travelled through Ramadan which was an amazing experience; the calls to prayer which echoed throughout the streets was haunting and mesmerizing to experience. To be invited off the street in Marrakech to join a local family for iftar blew our mind and opened our hearts.

This was one of those trips that took your breath away on more than one occasion, sitting on a sand dune in the middle of the Sahara Desert, being at the biggest mosque in Morocco during the holiest of times and exploring the blue city of Chefchaouen. And not to mention all the hands-on experience through the trip like a cooking class in Marrakech, pottery making in the Atlas Mountains, getting lost in the medinas, negotiating a great price in the souks, cracking argan seeds with the beautiful ladies and dancing with the black Africans of Morocco.

The hotels and included meals were amazing and everything ran so smoothly. I highly recommend this trip as you are totally immersed in the beautiful country of Morocco and I very much recommend Bunnik. This was our second trip and we are already looking for the next as we know without a doubt this company is simply the best; no hidden extras and genuine small group touring. Linda M – May 2019
